When we press on login button it appears like this

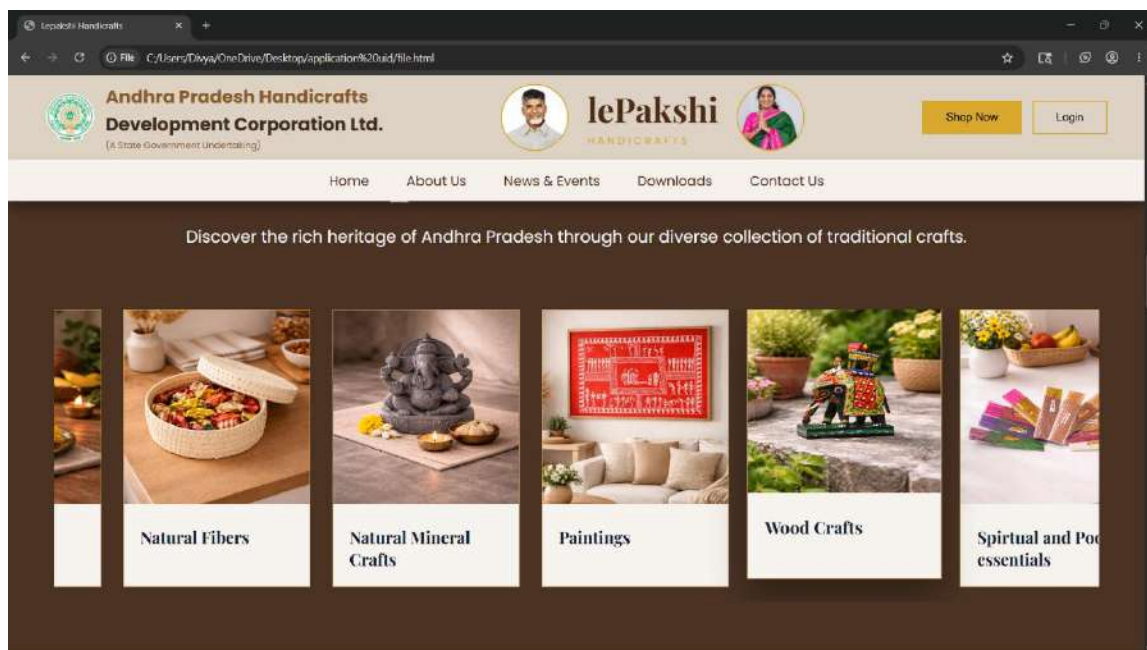

If we want create an account it appear like this

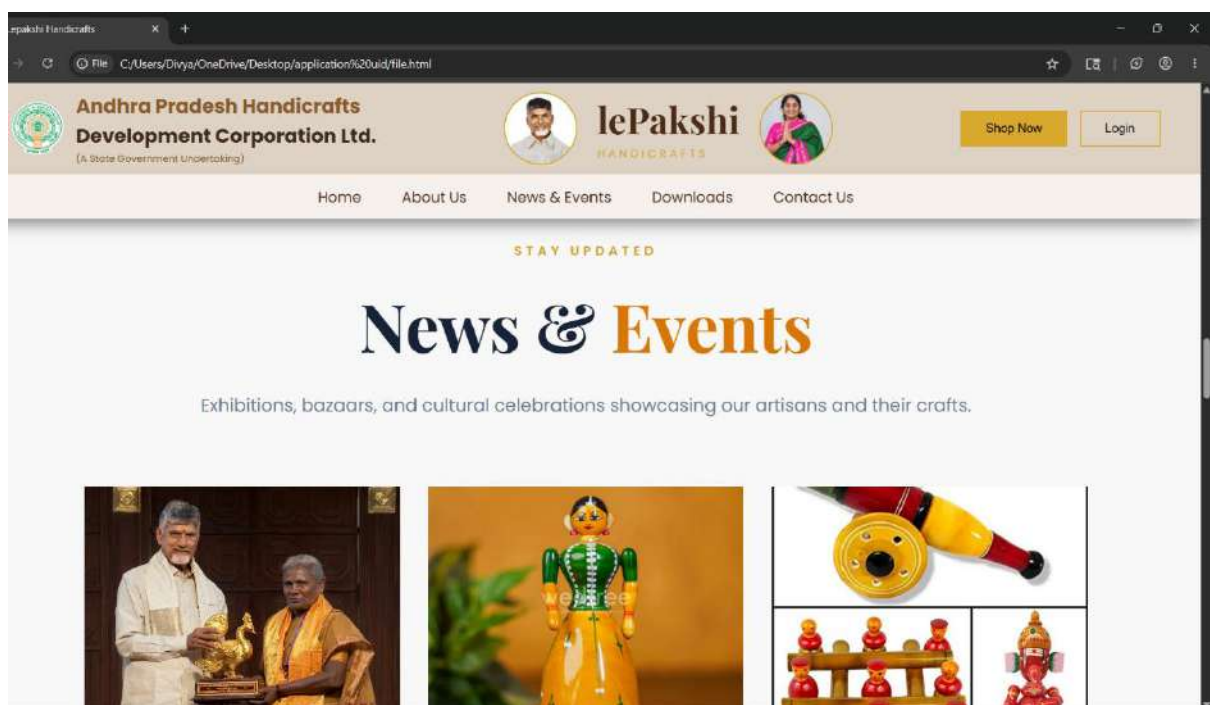

After we scroll down it will appear like this

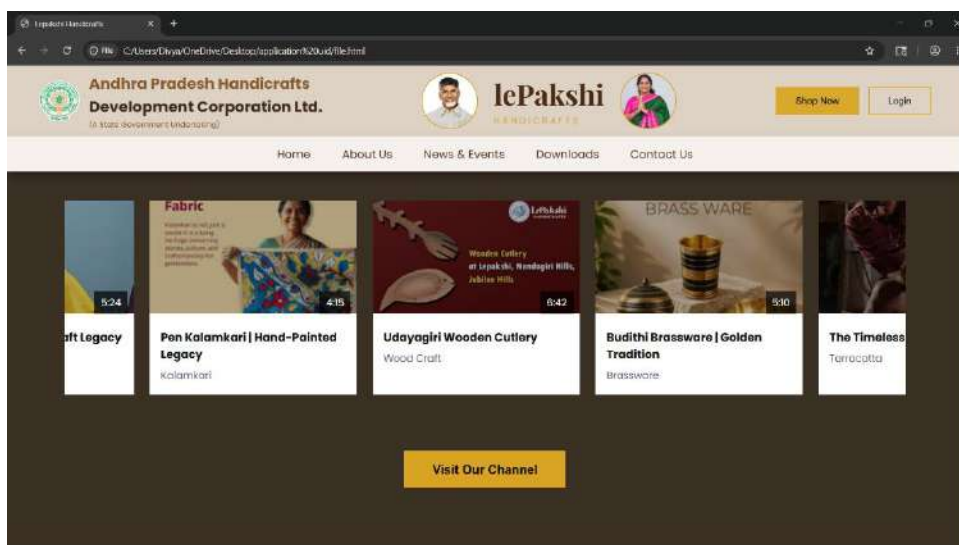

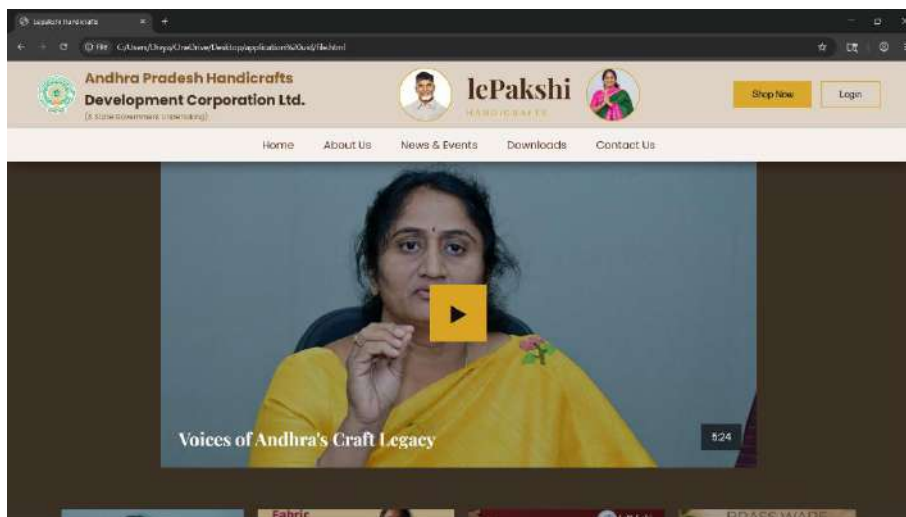

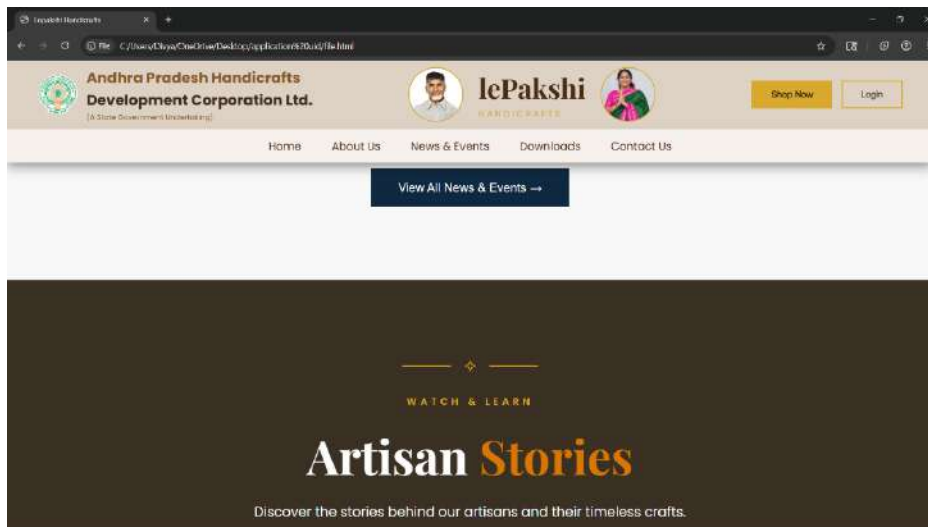

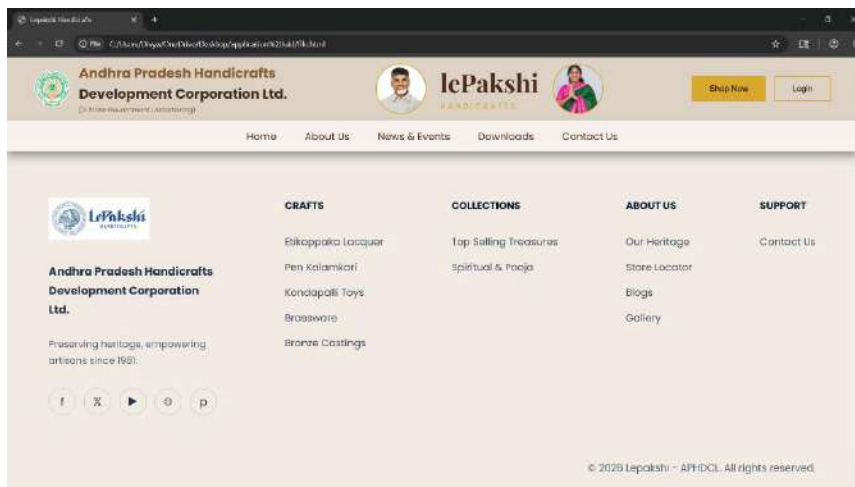

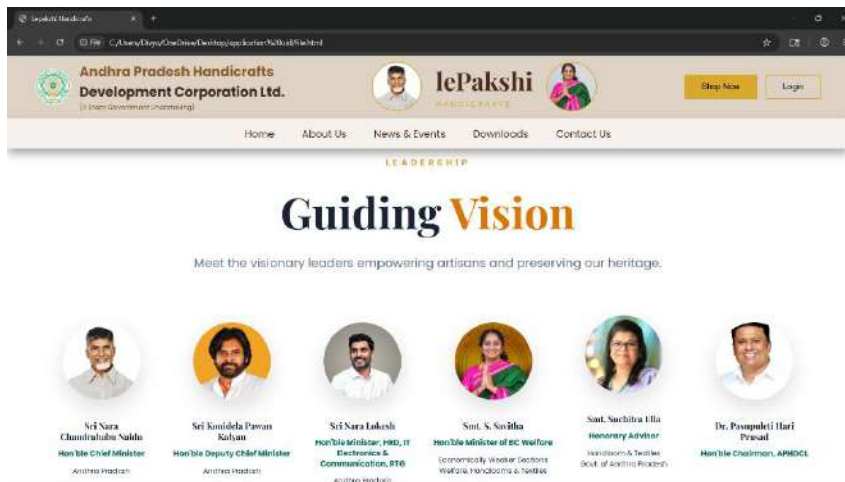

If we scroll horizontally we can see the other options

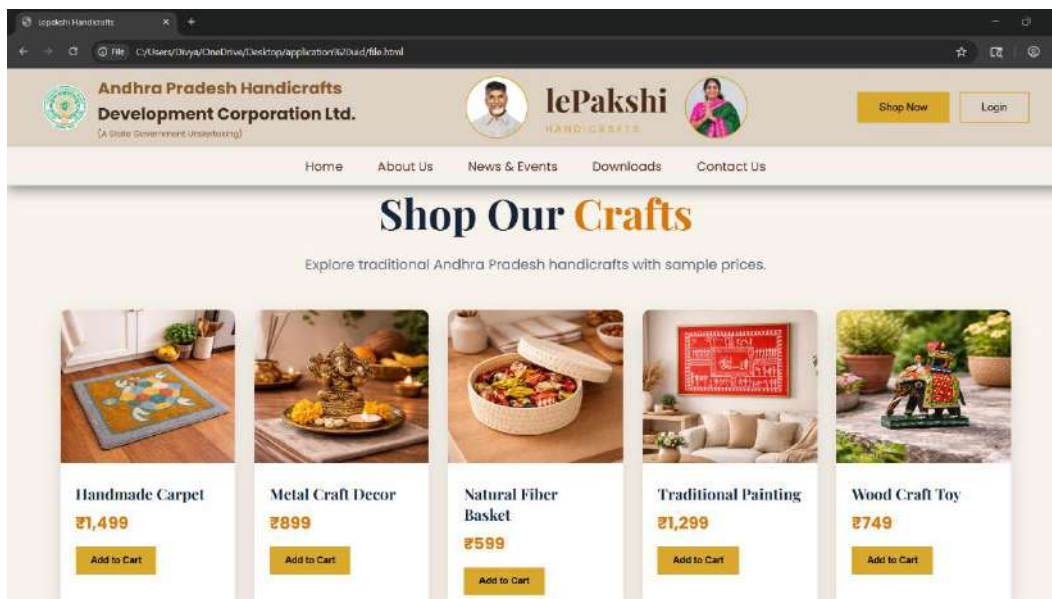

Again after scrolling vertically we will see this

If we click on the shop now we can see it like this

Explanation of the code:

I created the basic HTML structure using `<!DOCTYPE html>`, `<html>`, `<head>`, and `<body>`. In the head section, I added the page title, viewport tag for responsiveness, Google Fonts, and internal CSS using the `<style>` tag.”

“The viewport meta tag helps the website adjust properly on mobiles, tablets, and desktops.”

Header Section

“The header contains the Andhra Pradesh Handicrafts logo, Lepakshi branding, Shop Now button, Login button, and navigation menu. I used flexbox to align the logo, center brand, and buttons neatly in one row.”

The header is fixed at the top using:

position:fixed;
top:0;
z-index:1000;

“This makes the header stay at the top while scrolling.”

Navigation Bar

“The navbar contains links like Home, About Us, News & Events, Downloads, and Contact Us. I used `display:flex` and `gap` to place the menu items with proper spacing.”

Hover effect:

“When the user moves the cursor on a menu link, the color changes to golden, which improves user interaction.”

Hero Slider Section

“The hero section is the first main section of the website. It has three background image slides. Only one slide is visible at a time using the active class.”

Important CSS:

.slide{
  opacity:0;

.slide.active{
  opacity:1;
}
```

“Initially all slides are hidden. The slide with the active class becomes visible.”

JavaScript explanation:

“The JavaScript selects all slides and dots, removes active class from the current slide, moves to the next slide, and repeats every 4 seconds using setInterval().”

Heritage Section

“This section explains the purpose and promise of Lepakshi. It contains four cards: Authentic Heritage, Artisan First, GI Certified, and Sustainable.”

Explain CSS:

“I used flexbox for the cards and hover effect to lift the card slightly when the cursor is placed on it.”

Statistics Section

“The statistics section shows achievements like years of legacy, artisan partners, craft forms, national reach, and districts covered.”

“These numbers are placed inside individual stat boxes. I added small vertical divider lines between boxes using CSS pseudo-element ::after.”

Craft Collections Section

“I used horizontal scrolling with overflow-x:auto, and I removed the scrollbar to make the design clean.”

News & Events Section

“This section displays latest news cards with image, date, location, title, description, and Read More link.”

“Each news item is designed as a card. When we hover on the card, it moves slightly upward and shows a shadow effect.”

Artisan Stories Section

“This section is designed like a video gallery. It has one main video area and smaller video cards below it.”

“The play button is placed at the center using absolute positioning and transform.”

Leadership Section

“This section displays government leaders and officials related to the organization. Each leader is shown with image, name, designation, and details.”

“I used flexbox and responsive design so the cards adjust on smaller screens.”

Shop Section

“I added a shop section that is hidden at first. When the user clicks the Shop Now button, JavaScript displays the shop section and scrolls to it smoothly.”

Important JavaScript:

function showShop(){
  const shop = document.getElementById("shopPrices");
  shop.style.display = "block";
  shop.scrollIntoView({behavior:"smooth"});
}
```

“This function first makes the shop section visible and then smoothly scrolls the page to that section.”

Login Popup

“I added a login popup using a modal. When the user clicks the Login button, the popup opens and asks for username and password.”

“If both fields are filled, it shows ‘Logged in Successfully’. If fields are empty, it shows an error message.”

“I added a Create New Login option. When clicked, the popup heading changes from Login to Create New Login.”

Footer Section

“The footer contains organization information, social icons, craft links, collection links, about links, support link, and copyright.”

“It is useful for navigation and gives a complete professional website ending.”

Responsive Design

“I used media queries to make the website responsive.”

Example:

```
@media(max-width:600px){
  .content h1 {
    font-size:45px;
  }
}

“This reduces the font size and adjusts layout on mobile screens.”

this is a responsive Lepakshi Handicrafts front-end website. I developed it using HTML for structure, CSS for styling and responsiveness, and JavaScript for interactivity. The website includes a fixed header, automatic hero image slider, heritage section, statistics, craft gallery, news cards, artisan stories, leadership section, shop products with prices, login popup, create-new-login option, and footer. I also used hover effects, flexbox, grid layout, media queries, and JavaScript DOM manipulation to make the website interactive and user-friendly.”
